

I Am

I AM is what the almighty said when IT first boomed out to create Divide and design is what the sound did
Laying out the dimensions of space

Each layer down from this source breathes into all time and matter
As the divine dance of particles,
Continue to scatter

I am made of vibration
And an energy that's supreme,
I am an extension of love,
a creative being.

Divinity in Me

My potential is abundant;
I am as gifted as anyone else,
Because I am a divine spirit
Aware of my personified self

I know that I am able to get what I desire,
I can do or be or have anything I require

My definition of what the world is,
is what my world bias will seem,
So I can create a real difference when I simply change my belief.

Wobble the Wires

We're a product of our circumstances
And our upbringing,
Both of which contribute
To what we choose to believe

Thankfully, our brains are wired
In ways that can be undone
We just have to challenge the limiting mind
That programs our whole system

We can wobble the wires
Lay down the new foundation
To install new beneficial beliefs
That support what we wish to become

Tune

My brain and heart can be miles apart
When perusing my most desired goals,
But I can make sure they are aligned
With the true intent of my soul

The Resonation Realm that surrounds me
Holds energy which can't be seen;
But with my thoughtlings it can tune in
To the zones so I can receive.

I can do this with peace and pure love,
Or by having joyous fun.
And can enter the higher dimensions
When I raise my vibration

Spirit of It

I know more than the version
I have crafted in this experience
This personified and conditioned part
That sometimes makes no sense

The truth is deep inside of me
I can perceive IT right now
I just ask my soul a question
And the answer will come out

In an open or closed feeling
That shows me a yes or a no
A sense of ease or tightening
Will give me all IT knows

Question

I question whether it's possible,
And if so welcome it in,
If I'm fearless of it coming to me,
My Resonation Realm will begin

To enter the mystical zones
That gift me the powers I need so I can have what I truly desire
And what my soul can achieve

It's as easy as flicking a switch, as gentle as a cool summer breeze,
To be in alignment with all I need is to be loving, joyful, and free.

Ease

I can focus on more positive things at any time I please,
Therefore, I can work through struggle
And create a sense of ease.

Emotions are my signals,
an inner knowing that holds the key,
Once I create a feeling of love,
I boom out the intent in me

The Mystical zones are ready to gift me what I need,
Especially when my heart is happy
And my brain fully believes.

Adore

If I focus on it entirely;
whatever it is I desire,
And adore it before I've secured it,
I'll soon have what I require

The thoughtlings I generate within
Will get me into the zones
That gift me the means to my dreams that I can then hone

They come in the form of healings
Of ideas and inspiration
But mostly it's the gut inclines
I follow til manifestation
